The LIFE of JAMES LACKINGTON,

A Triple DEDICATION:
To the PUBLIC;
To the RESPECTABLE } BOOKSELLERS.
To the SORDID }

“ Let high birth triumph! what can be more great!
“ Nothing—but merit in a low estate.
“ ————such the vanity of great and small,
“ Contempt goes round, and all men laugh at all.”

YOUNG.

“ The Hero of the present Publication, is the well known JAMES “ LACKINGTON, who now deals in Books by Thousands and “ Ten Thousands, and who from his original Situation in Life,
“ seemed to have been condemned to pass his Days in Ignorance;
“ at least the utmost that was to be expected from it was, to half “ read and half spell his Testament. But minds of a peculiar stamp
“ are superior to all Situations, and burst resistless through barriers “ which are insurmountable to the herd of mankind.
“ As an Author, Mr. LACKINGTON is commendable; he is “ entertaining, and he is useful. The curious Anecdotes he has “ interspersed, his Account of Methodism, and indeed the general
“ Variety of his Narrative keep up the Attention; while the plain

“ Success will instruct others, and act at once as a spur and a guide “ to their industry.”

A Short Relation of the RIVER NILE,
OF ITS
SOURCE and CURRENT;
And of other Curiosities.

By an EYE-WITNESS,

Who lived many Years in Abyssinia.

N. B. This Work was translated from the Portuguese, by order of, and printed for the ROYAL SOCIETY of LONDON, 1669.

And as Lord Brouncker, Sir Isaac Newton, Dr. Barrow, Dr. Wallis, Mr. Gregory, Dr. Halley, and other learned Men were Members of the Royal Society at that Time, no Doubt can be made of its Authenticity.

The above Work being very scarce, it was judged that a new Edition of it would be very acceptable to the Public, and the more so as a late Traveller arrogates to himself the unique Merit of discovering the Head of the NILE, and takes uncommon Pains to make his Readers believe that no other Person had ever arrived at these so much famed Sources. But it is very remarkable, that this modern Traveller's Account of these celebrated Fountains are nearly in the very Words of this old Work; the inference is obvious!—To this new Edition is prefixed a New Preface.

O C T A V O.

- 763 RELATION of the Source and Current of the RIVER NILE, and other Curiosities, by an Eye Witness, who lived many Years in Abyssinia, new, sewed, 2s 6d — 1791
- N. B. The preceding Work was first translated from the Portuguese by Order of, and printed for the Royal Society of London in 1669. And as Lord Brouncker, Sir Isaac Newton, Doctor Barrow, Dr. Wallis, Mr. Gregory, Doctor Halley, and other learned Men, were Members of the Royal Society at that Time, no Doubt can be made of its Authenticity. The above Work being very scarce, it was judged that a new edition of it would be very acceptable to the Public; and the more so, as a late Traveller arrogates to himself the unique Merit of discovering the Head of the Nile. And takes uncommon Pains to make his Readers believe that no other Person had ever arrived at these so much famed Sources. But it is very remarkable, that this modern Traveller's Account of these celebrated Fountains, are nearly in the very Words of this Old Work; the Inference is obvious. To this Edition is prefixed a New Preface.

N. B. The English Reviewers have filled seven Pages on the

“ The Hero of the present Publication, is the well known JAMES
 “ LACKINGTON, who now deals in Books by Thousands
 “ and Ten Thousands; and who from his original Situation
 “ in Life, seemed to have been condemned to pass his Days
 “ in Ignorance; at least the utmost that was to be expected “ from it was, to half read and half spell his Testament. But “ minds of a peculiar stamp are superior to all Situations, and “ burst resifless through barriers which are insurmountable
 “ to the herd of mankind.

“ As an Author, Mr. LACKINGTON, is commendable; he is “ entertaining, and he is useful. The curious Anecdotes he “ has interspersed, his Account of Methodism, and indeed
 “ the general Variety of his Narrative keep up the Attention;
 “ while the plain and undissembled Manner in which he relates
 “ the Means of his Success will instruct others, and act at “ once as a spur and a guide to their industry.”
